ime was,not long ago, when flying kites was one of the popular amuse-ments of the average boy at this time of year. We often hear now-a-days that some of the "boys" are "flying their kites," and even men eminent in financial circles do a little "kiting" with commercial paper. This modern way is different, however, from the old-fashioned sport. We wish to say that we are flying our kite for the hardware trade of Paw Paw and vicinity. As the bulb climbs higher in the thermometer, and your wife is frying her eyes out in the little back kitch-en over the hot old timer, treat her to a genuine surprise in the shape of a new Oil stove. So cool and handy. All sizes and styles.
